VIRGIL BACON BUYS INTEREST

In A. E. Whitfield's General Merchandising Establishment at Mortons Gap

WRITES CARD TO THE PEOPLE.

Mr. V. L. Bacon who for a number of years made an excellent postmaster at Madisonville has decided to launch out in the mercantile field and has purchased a half interest in the well-known mercantile firm of A. E. Whitfield of that city. Mr. Bacon is probably one of the best known men in the county and has a host of friends who wish him success in his new field of labor. Following is his card to the public.

To The People of Mortons Gap and Vicinity.

It is my belief that Mortons Gap is a town of opportunities, this is my impression to-day and I also have faith in its future, I am inspired to feel that it will in time become an enterprising city and because of this I have chosen it as the place to launch into business.

I have assumed a half interest in the general merchandise business of A. E. Whitfield, who is known as a dependable and honest merchant, and in order to retain all of his old friends and patrons and if possible try to add a few more shall endeavor to render fair and square dealings and my best service to win them, I feel that it is unnecessary for me to introduce myself to you as the past 14 years in the service of the Government as Postmaster at Madisonville has brought me in touch with the majority of the people of Hopkins County, with this 14 years of successful service in the postoffice and four years experience prior to this in the mercantile business, I come to you with the definite purpose of establishing myself in your confidence by the same system that has been the basis of my success in Madisonville. "The best service and satisfaction" shall be my motto, with this in view I solicit for the firm a share of your patronage and good will.

Very respectfully,
V. L. BACON,
With Whitfield & Bacon.

Should Keep Name in Paper.

No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name mentioned somewhere in its columns. This applies to all kinds of business—general store, dry goods store, groceries, furniture dealers, professional men, and in fact all classes of business men. This does not mean that you should have a whole or half or even a quarter page ad. in every issue of the paper, but your name and business should be mentioned if you do not use more than a two line space. A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell just what business is represented in a town by looking at the business mentioned in the paper. This is the best possible town advertising. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and his town. He is the man who expects the paper to do most of the boosting for his town. The man who insists on sharing the business that comes to a town but refuses to advertise his business is not doing his share of the boosting. The life of any town depends upon the live, wideawake and liberal business men in it.—Corydon Republican.

BELIEVED T. C. WILL BE EXTENDED

Road Now in Hands of Receiver. But is Said New Organization Will be Perfected

A special of recent date from Nashville says:

Extensions of the Tennessee Central into new territory and improvements of the property to cost between $5,000,000 and $8,000,000, are in contemplation according to S. W. Fordyce, Jr., of St. Louis, general counsel of the road and representative of the general bondholders, who was in Nashville Wednesday. Announcement of these plans in detail may be expected in a month or six weeks.

"The road has been making enough to pay the operating expenses and the interest on the prior lien bonds," said Mr. Fordyce, but it has not made enough to pay the interest on the $8,000,000 general or second mortgage bonds. And of course has paid nothing on the stock.

"With its present limitations the road would probably never be able to reach the stage where the fixed charge might be paid and a dividend declared. It needs extensions and improvements, and to secure them the road must be reorganized. New capital must be secured and as no capital could be secured when T. C. is not able to pay interest on capital already invested, the road must go through the hands of a receiver, the state wiped clean and start with a new company. The road now has outstanding $4,014,000 of prior lien bonds held jointly by the Illinois Central and Southern railroads, in the proportion of one third and two-thirds. There are also $8,000,000 of general or second mortgage bonds, and the receivership was secured on behalf of holders of these securities. In addition to the bonds there are something more than 7,000 shares of stock outstanding.

"In the event of a foreclosure the road will be publicly sold and the proceeds applied first to the settlement of all current liabilities; second to the payment of accrued interest and principal of the general bonds now amounting to about $9,600,000; and, finally, if there is any surplus, to the payment of stockholders.

COAL OUTPUT OF KENTUCKY MINES

Chief Inspector of Mines C. J. Norwood Says 15,570,000

Tons Produce.

DURING YEAR 1912.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 10.—In his estimate of the Kentucky coal production for 1912, Chief Inspector of Mines Norwood says it will be about 15,570,000 tons divided as follows:

District	Tons.
Western	7,480,000
Southeastern	4,815,000
Northeastern	3,245,000

Total... 15,570,000

This indicates an increase of more than 1,500,000 tons over the output for 1911, and an increase of more than 900,000 tons over that for 1910, which hitherto has been the "banner" year.

The report says:

"Complete returns for November and actual figures for December may either increase or decrease the estimated amount somewhat, but it seems safe to place the output at not less than about 15,000,000 tons.

"The prospects for 1913 are bright. Barring extraordinary disturbances, I look for an output of not less than 20,000,000 tons; but it may be materially greater.

"A statement showing production by counties will be made public soon."

Mr. Norwood says his estimate exceeds that of the government by 1,500,000 tons.

Here is a remedy that will cure your cold. Volcano a Wealth Producer.

A fairly enthusiastic volcano is one of the world's freaks as a wealth producer. Bungo, the volcano in question, is located in Japan, and produces refined sulphur, which by this natural method of production escapes the import duty charged by this country, amounting to $4 a ton. The owners of Bungo naturally have no desire to part with their fiery source of income.

Making Balance Even.

A chimney sweep's boy went into a baker's shop for a twopenny loaf, and conceiving it to be small remarked to the baker that he did not believe it was whole. "Never mind that," said the baker, "I'll give you a whole loaf if you'll carry it." "True," replied the lad, and, throwing three half-pence on the counter left the shop. The baker called after him that he had not left enough money. "Never mind that," said young sooty, "you will have the less to count."

Women Avoid Operations
When a woman suffering from some form of feminine disorder is told that an operation is necessary, it of course frightens her.
The very thought of the hospital operating table and the surgeon's knife strikes terror to her heart, and no wonder. It is quite true that some of these troubles may reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but thousands of women have avoided the necessity of an operation by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This fact is attested by the grateful letters they write to us after their health has been restored.
These Two Women Prove Our Claim.
Cary, Maine.—"I feel it a duty I owe to all suffering women to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. One year ago I found myself a terrible sufferer. I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached, I had no appetite and was so nervous I could not sleep, then I would be so tired mornings that I could scarcely get around. It seemed almost impossible to move or do a bit of work and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I had soon felt like a new woman. I had no pains, slept well, had good appetite and was fat and could do almost all my own work for a family of four. I shall always feel that I owe my good health to your medicine."
—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Cary, Me.
Charlotte, N. C.—"I was in bad health for two years, with pains in both sides and was very nervous. If I even lifted a chair it would cause a hemorrhage. I had a growth which the doctor said was a tumor and I never would get well unless I had an operation. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I gladly say that I am now enjoying fine health and am the mother of a nice baby girl. You can use this letter to help other suffering women."—Mrs. ROSA SIMS, 16 Wyona St., Charlotte, N. C.
Now answer this question if you can. Why should a woman submit to a surgical operation without first giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial? You know that it has saved many others—why should it fail in your case?
For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs. It has restored so many suffering women to health.
Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

INDIGESTION FIVE YEARS

Mrs. L. D. Cook, Vineland, N. J., says: "I was sick five years with indigestion. My stomach seemed to have a heavy load in it, and at other times it seemed to be tied in knots. Nobody knows how I suffered.
"I tried a great many doctors and a great many kinds of medicine, but nothing did any good until I took Vinol. It has helped me wonderfully. I am improving fast, feel better and am getting my flesh back again. Vinol has done me a world of good."
We know the great power of Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, in curing chronic stomach trouble and building up all weakened, run-down persons, and that is why we guarantee to return your money if it does not help you.

"Kill me ere I die."
They hammered along from six p.m.
Till the sun shone at it's best.
With sixty cars everything looks grim.
And once more his sad request,
"Kill me ere I die."
They worked South Diamond, Sunset and Coll.
The ash-pans were filling fast,
The steam was used before it could boil,
And the fireman said with his face aglow:
"Kill me ere I die."
They spent midnight in Atkinson yard,
Someone was fast growing limper;
He said he was treated without regard
And the brakeman could hear him whimper:
"Kill me ere I die."
It was all caused by the old scrap pile
The engine was alluded to;
The Hoghead kept his same old smile
And "Happy" began to coo:
Kill me ere I die."
The smoke rolled out like a storm cloud,
Over a thousand feet high, they say;
This makes the engineer feel proud
And the poor old fire boy pray:
"Kill me ere I die."
The dining car from the Dixie Limited lays over here every night.
By doing so, it helps the boys a great deal by letting them enjoy the luxuries of an up to date dining car. By looking through the windows, they can see the waiters folding the table cloths and napkins. Some of the most prominent railroad men, accompanied by their families, enjoyed a nice breakfast, Sunday morning, on the linen covered dining tables in their homes.
Engineer H. L. Smith, was in Madisonville Monday.
I know some of the readers will want to know why I used the conjunction "and" so much, in the first part of this column, called poetry. For their benefit I will say that it was because I so desired to do and did so.
Henry Pinkinton has been off on account of the illness of his father.
J. F. Clark, who has been off-house man for a long time, has been promoted to the more honorable position—Painter.
N. O. Whitford, who has been working for the Earlington Bee for some time, has accepted a position with the railroad company. Yes, he's dem' all right.
A lump of coal, about the size of a large green gourd, fell off the tank of an engine last Monday but did not get to terra firma, until it had struck George Armstrong's glazing blow on the cranium. George, meditating, with the assistance of a brick in one hand, and hurled the missile at the fellow on the tank, with terrific force. It missed the fellow and he came down off the tank. George was unhurt, with the exception of a bruised head and several cut places on his scalp. I think he has resolved that "Cook" in the case is better than Schlitz on the head.

Temperance
(Conducted by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.)
PERNICIOUS EFFECT ON BODY
Beer Drinking Produces Disease of Stomach and Digestive Tract and of Nervous System.
My connection with large medical institutions for many years past has given me, I think, an excellent opportunity to observe the effect of beer drinking and the use of other alcoholic liquors in many cases. I can say as a result of my own observation that beer drinking has a very pernicious effect upon nearly every organ of the body. It produces disease of the stomach and digestive tract, of the heart and circulating system, of the kidneys and liver, and of the nervous system. In addition to this it lessens the vigor and vital resistance of the whole body, makes the beer drinker very much more susceptible to infection such as pneumonia and other acute infections, and also lessens his ability to recover from illnesses of any kind. An untold amount of misery and disease would be avoided if the use of beer and other intoxicating liquors could be wiped off the face of the earth.—Dr. W. H. Riley, Battle Creek Sanitarium, Battle Creek, Mich.

NO FOOD VALUE IN ALCOHOL
Dr. Evans, Former Chief Health Officer of Chicago, Says Liquor Has Only Fuel Worth.

Dr. M. E. Evans, former chief health officer of Chicago, now on the Chicago Daily Tribune staff, in an article recently contributed to that paper says:
"A man with the alcohol habit is a sick man, however much he may think to the contrary. He is mentally sick. He may have inherited a mental make-up which makes it strongly probable that he will be a drunkard, or it may be the fault of bad social training. Usually, however, the disease develops as the result of what it feeds on. The man's mortality becomes perverted through chronic alcoholic poisoning.
"Alcohol has fuel value, but no food value. Its poisonous qualities overshadow its fuel value. It has no toxin neutralizing power. It is no longer used by well-informed people for snake bites, or consumption, or blood poisoning. There is, in fact, no place for alcohol in medicine."

GOOD OF TOTAL ABSTINENCE
In Supporting Temperance Cause Police Commissioner Says Never Had Abstainer Under Arrest

Two boys were seated in a railway station talking, and a minister across the room was listening.
"Say, John, they tell me you have signed the total abstinence pledge."
"Yes, Harry, I signed the pledge, and joined the Loyal Temperance Legion."
"What put that into your head?"
"Well, I think it will help me overcome any temptation to drink or use tobacco, and I notice that the best people are abstainers."
A policeman stood near with a prisoner in handcuffs. The minister turned to him and said:
"Sir, what have you to say about temperance?"
"Well," said the policeman, "all I have to say is, I never took a total abstainer to prison in my life, nor to the house of correction."

Showing Trend of Times.
A Minneapolis saloonkeeper recently advertised in a liquor journal for a bartender in which he said: "Bartender wanted. Must be sober. No boozers need apply." Suppose employers in other trades should adopt the same rule, what would be the effect on the cash register of the saloonkeeper? The truth is, the rule of total abstinence is becoming popular among employers all over the country, and the man who is a boozier is finding it more and more difficult to secure a position, or to hold it if he does secure it.
Criminal Waste.
The estimated wholesale market value of liquors as reckoned by the United States census bureau is $440,726,471.
It is a startling fact that this entire production of liquor is so much waste. In every branch and detail of the business of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors there is absolute destruction, without a single redeeming or qualifying feature. The raw material used is wasted, the labor expended upon it is wasted, the money spent by the people for the liquor is wasted.
Raise Life Limit.
I am thoroughly in sympathy with the temperance movement and believe that the non-use of alcohol will be a tremendous factor in promoting the health and raising the life limit of the people.—Dr. A. S. Warthin, Pathological Laboratory, University of Michigan.
Make and Protect Men.
Men support the saloon to make money and to protect money; we oppose the saloon to make men and protect men.

HE WAS AN ACQUIRED TASTE
Pretty Compliment That Was Paid to Richard Wilson, Painter, by Certain Ladies.

Richard Wilson, the English landscape painter, was not of a pliant disposition; conscious of his own merits, he disdained to humble himself to those who measure men by rank and value them by pounds. But as is shown by this pretty story, told in "Walnuts and Wine," Wilson's friends liked him no less for his brusque manner.
Goldsmith, Sterne, Wilson and Dr. Johnson were assembled at Garriek's house with a party of ladies for supper.
"We were very lively at your expense indeed, gentlemen," said Mrs. Garriek, rallying them for having arrived late. "To punish you for not obeying our summons, the ladies likened you all to plants and fruits and flowers."
"Pray let us hear," said Wilson. "Doubtless I come in for a sprig of laurel."
"No, sir," said the pretty, lively lady, "you are wrong."
"For rue, perchance," said he.
"No, sir; guess again."
"Why, I am dubbed bitter enough; perhaps a crab," said he, "for that man" (pointing to Garriek) "has dubbed me Sour Dick."
"Guess again," said Mrs. Garriek, laughing. "Will you give it up?"
"Yes, madam."
"Why, then, sir, you are likened to olives. Now, will you dare to inquire further?"
"Let me see," said Wilson, with all eyes upon him. "Well, then, my dear, out with it! I dare."
"Then know, sir," said she, rising and curtysing most gravely, "Mr. Wilson is rough to the taste at first, tolerable by a little longer acquaintance, and delightful at last."

HE HEARD IT

Dickson—So you were at the inauguration eh? Hear the oath taken?
Wickson—Did I? Say, when I stepped on the pet corn of a man in that crowd I heard a dozen oaths taken.

TOLD OF THE COLLEGIAN.

A former jest, much used, was the one about the college graduate who tried to get a job, and on being asked for his credentials showed his diploma. "What—a college man?" cried the boss. "Yes, but I'll try to forget it!" answered the applicant. The new variation is a true story because it's new. A successful Cleveland business man of the old school interviewed his nephew—a recent alumnus of a great institution of learning—the other day. Finally the old man said: "Billy, you have an unusual amount of knowledge for a man just graduated from college." "Yes, grandpop, I have," candidly admitted the boy. "But I explain it this way: I had a good common school education before I went there!"

VERSATILE POET.

"Biffers, the bard, wrote an autumn sonnet."
"Did he succeed in selling it?"
"No, but he thinks he can change the color scheme, substitute 'glad' for 'sad' in several places, and make it do very well for a spring poem."

INSIDIOUS SCHEME.

"Rosa, my mother-in-law is coming for a long visit tomorrow. Here is a list of her favorite dishes."
"Yes, sir."
"Well, the first time you give us one of these you'll get a week's notice."—Fliegende Blaetter.

NO MISTAKE ABOUT IT.

"I understand the Spudskins are sojourning in Paris."
"How could you help but understand it? This town has been flooded with Paris postcards ever since they got there."

Remarkable Service.

One of the most remarkable services ever held by a church in Central City was conducted at the Methodist church here last Sunday by Rev. McMurtry, a church extension representative. At the meeting a fund of $7,000 was raised, partially through the exhortation of Rev. McMurtry and Rev. Currie and partially as the result of previous committee work. The success of the meeting created great enthusiasm among the Methodists.

Frank D. Rash, left yesterday for a business trip to Pittsburg, and New York to be gone several days.

D. W. Umstead is in Columbia this week on business for the St. Bernard Mining company.

Chas. Curtis, of Hopkinsville was in the city today on business.

H. H. Sizemore has been appointed Assistant State Mine Inspector in place of W. R. Brasher deceased. His territory will be all of Western Kentucky.

Stiff Joints Sprains, Bruises
are relieved at once by an application of Sloan's Liniment. Don't rub, just lay on lightly.
"Sloan's Liniment has done more good than anything I have ever tried for my stiff joints. I got my hand hurt so badly that I had to stop work right in the busiest time of the year. I thought at first that I would have to have my hand taken off, but I got a bottle of Sloan's Liniment and cured my hand."
WILSON WHEELER, Norfolk, Ala.
Good for Broken Sinews
G. G. JONES, Baldwin, L. I., writes:—"I used Sloan's Liniment for broken sinews above the knee caused by a fall and to my great satisfaction was able to resume work in less than three weeks after the accident."
SLOAN'S LINIMENT
Fine for Sprain
Mr. HENRY A. VORHL, 84 Somerset St., Plainfield, N. J., writes:—"A friend sprained his ankle so badly that it went black. He laughed when I told him that I would have him out in a week. I applied Sloan's Liniment and in four days he was working and said Sloan's was a right good Liniment."

This Tearing-Down-and-Rebuilding Sale of Ours is the Biggest Thing That Ever Happened

It's an Offering of our Entire Stocks of Clothing, Furnishings, Hats, Shoes,
Ladies' Ready-to-wear Apparel, Dry Goods, Etc., at Record-Breaking Cut Prices.

CLEARANCE SALES are common occurrences; they come along regularly twice a year, in a legitimate way, and at other times in ways not so legitimate. A bonafide clearance sale is a good thing for the people, so FAR as it goes. But in all the annals of Hopkinsville merchandising there never has been a clearance sale like THIS one. It's "the biggest thing that has ever happened." For the second time in the history of The O. G. Sprouse Company we are doing the "biggest thing"—this thing before the magnitude of which all other things of the kind pale into insignificance. One year ago we put on a clearance sale that shook up this old town from center to circumference. People who remember that "big thing" will all the more readily understand how this is to be a so-much-bigger thing. One year ago when we moved here we inaugurated the biggest sale that was ever given in Hopkinsville, but if you will come to our store on Jan. 17th, or during the 15 days that this sale will run, we will show you better than we can tell you what it means to you. In order to make room for the largest stock of new spring goods that was ever shown in Hopkinsville, we are now placing on sale our entire $35,000 stock for what it will bring. We have just finished cutting, as it were, into our annex, which gives just twice the space to handle from day to day the crowds that will positively visit this sale. HOW can SPROUSE do it? Read and think. Sprouse is the owner's friend and an indicator of bargain sales. The greatest clothing sale ever witnessed will begin Jan. 17, continuous 15 days, on Ninth Street in the Cook Bldg., near L. & N. Depot.

Think of these prices! Think of those famous brands! come and see the goods and select just what you want out of Cassimeres, Worsteds, Thibets, Cheviots, Unfinished Worsteds and Serges.
